BEAUTY ---- STRENGTH

A Form Sublime to Those Who Take

Willard WhiteCo.'s Vaucaire Galega Tablets Bust Developer, Flesh Food and Tonic.

The kind that all leading authorities on Beauty Culture highly indorse. Our preparation contains the genuine imported Rue Galega, Lacto Phosphate of Lime, etc., recommended by Beauty Editors. and OUR OWN ESSENTIAL ingredient without which a Vaucaire preparation would be worthless-One of the many unsolicited letters we receive: WILLARD WHITE CO.

WILLARD WHITE CO.

Dear Sirs: I am writing this to let you know how much I appreciate what your tablets and cream have done for me. Last summer I had to wear high neck and long sleeve gowns, wherein this summer I feel proud of my piump neck and arms. In using the cream I rub my hands and arms with it every night as well as face and bust. I can scarcely believe I am the same person. My tollet table would be incomplete without both. I have recommended same to my friends. They are using it faithfully and think it as wonderful as I do. My husband is delighted with the change in my form. He states I look so much more stylish in the most simple of gowns. My skin is so soft and white, wherein it used to be rather yellow and hard. No one could hire me to use any other kind of cream or tablets. I belong to club which is called "Sans-Pariet." which means "we have no equal." so I have placed your articles in that same class. I consider them exceptionally fine and far superior to any other. Hopting this will help others, I remain.

Clean- Powder

The new wonder worker for the toilet.

With the entertainment given Secretary Root at Rio, dinners in honor of the delegates, receptions at Petropolis and banquets for Miss Root at one end of the Atlantic and the usual summer gayeties at the Bar Harbor end, the range of social interest is somewhat extended. It is customary to have to strain the eyes across the Atlantic, but it is a new sensation to have to stretch them so far down the coast. The Roots seem to find Rio as gay and beautiful as Paris, and there are no reports from there of the kindnesses of St. Swithin, who has so effectually inundated the northern resorts. It is probably due to the penetential offices of the rainy saint that society at Newport proposed to go into retreat, which will be preached by the Rev. William O'Brien Pardow, S.J., one of the best preachers in the Jesuit body. Father Pardow intends that this first series of religious exercises will be heard by all the cottagers up there, if they choose to attend. He has asked the Catholic women to bring their women friends along, Catholic or Protestant. It is not unlikely that there will be a good sprinkling of non-Catholics in his audience. It is expected that at least 200 women will attend the exercises. Those who have not cottages at Newport have already engaged quarters. Some of the younger women will stay in the convent during the eight days of the retreat.

A delightful affair was the tea given Monday aftenoon by Mrs. Charles J. Glid-den to the ladies of the Glidden and Bay state tours, and to the other ladies who had motored to Bretton Woods for motor week.

A corner of the dining room had been transformed into a bower, with screens and paims, and the round tea table with its wealth of glass and silver and the dainty green and white china presented a most attractive appearance with its decorations of ferns and poppies. Mrs. Glidden, who received, was gowned in an exquisite blue French voile with a Paris hat done in pale blue plumes. Mrs. McLane, the wife of Gov. McLane of New Hampshire, who assisted her, was all in white with a white picture hat. The Glidden trophy, banked in green and sweet peas, occupied a place of honor in the reception room.

A wedding which was something of a surprise to their friends was that Thursday evening of Mrs. Lillian M. Stahl to Mr. Wallace C. Babcock, who holds a prominent position in the second auditor's office. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the parsonage of Peck Memorial Chapel, in Georgetown, by Rev. Charles Alvin Smith, pastor. Only a half a dozen relatives and very close friends were witnesses of the interesting affair, among them the newly married daughter and son-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Stahl was given in marriage by her brother. A wedding supper followed, and the bride and bridegroom left for a wedding trip of about a month, after which they will be at home in this city. This is one of the many romances of the government service, the bride being a clark in the sixth auditor's office.

The accidental death in Baltimore on Thursday night of Lyeurgus Winchester will throw a large family connection into mourning. Mr. Winchester married Miss Katharine Griswold Pratt, eldest daughter of Dallas Bache Pratt, in May, 1904. The wedding was the culmination of a romance, as Mr. Winchester had proposed to and been accepted by his bride twenty-four hours after he met her. Mr. Winchester leaves a child, born a few months ago. Mrs. Winchester was visiting her parents and her two sisters, the Misses Constance and Beatrice Pratt, at their country place at New Rochelle, and had gone out with them on their yacht, the Sea Fox.
